It's time to end this injustice perpetrated by a few competitors who simply cry foul because they can't defeat Microsoft on the playing field using the normal rules of the game. I am one American who truly believes that Microsoft did not violate any laws of this great country. Being a fiercely competitive and relentlessly intimidating player in the great economic arena of today's world is correct, necessary, and JUSTIFIED!
Microsoft broke no laws. Let us end this travesty now!
